Rides ONLY Five Winners

Joe Mooney, on Quecreek, Spoils Record of Star Jockey in Sixth Race.

By Vincent Treanor.

OCKEY "BUDDY" ENSOR had an off-day at Aqueduct yesterday. He won only five races in a row and was eccond in the sixth. Buddy had predicted that he would win every mount he had, but Joe Mooney came along in she sixth race and spoiled the day of a lifetime for Buddy. Ensor rods with remarkable confidence throughout the day, a confidence which comes to anybody with success.

He started the day with Clare Frances in the first race. But was a 13 to I shot, but the presence of Ensor in the saddle drove her price down to 8. She chased the fast Coca Cola all the way and right at the end put everyihing she had into a finish which natied the favorite on the post.

In the second race Ensor had the mount on Tippliy Witchet and it was his well judged ride which brought Tippity through in the stretch to win colons away. Afternoon the a good going away. Afternoon ran a good race, and at one time in the stretch looked the winner. But there was this onkey Ensor charging on him. In the third and fourth Ensor rode for his contract employer, R. T. Wil-son, and won both races. On Yellow Hand it was his jookeyship which told the tale. In some too good a position in the backstretch and apparently pocketed and buffated around. Ensor brought his mount along with rare patience until he got plenty of racing room in the stretch. Then he sat down to ride Yellow Hand. As in all instances, when "Buddy" puts his mind on the job, he was in the front in no time and the rost was easy.

By this time accordingly was talking

By this time everybody was talking By this time everybody was talking Emsor and many made up their minds to play him on anything. His fifth mount was on King Agrippa, naturally a 10 to 1 chance, but with Ensor up King Agrippa's price suffered. He brought the King home too, showing that he can win on bad horses as well as on good ones.

Our Boots was Buddy's sixth mount.

HOUSING A YEAR

Associations Plan Housing Relief Through State Loan Bank.

Money for housing the masses available in any required volume even Am if bankers should continue to refuse Am big loans to residential builders.

This was demonstrated to-day as a esult of investigations conducted by Ass officers of metropolitan, State and Ame national savings - loan associations. They have been in consultation on an plans for financing the needed housing Atl campaign and declare that fully $200,compaign and declare that fully $200.

000,000 a year could be made available has in the greater city and $250,000,000 in med the State. -

Their proposition has been embodied in bille for the special section of the Be Legislature. They propose to appeal on directly to the investing public for Cal funds, independently of the bankers. Their plan would make their assoma- Om tions the medium for turning the huge Ow aggregate of savings accumulated by Cha the people into the construction of moderate cost homes, either private of dweilings or flats.

They would place the State practi- Cally in charge of the operation by Calmaking the State Land Bank, which is Call under the supervision of the State Banking Department, their chief ex-change. While their own associations would accept deposits from the public in their local districts and issue loans to builders in the same districts, their marrgage contracts taken as security for such loans would be deposited with the State Land Bank, which in turn would large its own bonds against them. Buch bonds have been authorized by law as proper invest-ments for banks, trust companies, ostates and institutional or private trust funda.

And to make the bonds of the State Land Bank mere attractive to investors, the bills as framed embody provisions exempting them and their income from State and Federal tax-
